Introduction to the We Believe Sunday School Curriculum

The goal of the new curriculum series is "to bring the learner into a living relationship with Jesus Christ, within the Church - the Body of Christ - through the Holy Tradition of the Armenian Church." Overall, the curriculum will help students explore four fundamental questions:

- 1. Who is God (Father, Son, Holy Spirit)?
- 2. How do we come to know him through the familiar and life-giving Tradition of the Armenian Church and through her story?
- 3. How are our lives transformed by that knowledge?
- 4. How do we live in Christian community with that knowledge?

The Armenian Church is fortunate in that its faithful are active communicants in the life of the Church from the moment they are baptized as infants. They are able to participate fully in experiential, formative faith. Not only the curriculum and the Sunday School teacher, but also parents, pastors, and the entire community support the process of the learner's transformation from "knowing about" Christ to true discipleship.

Introduction to the Kindergarten Curriculum

If you have any experience with kindergarteners, you already know you're in for a wonderful year. Your students will teach you even more than you teach them. Their wonder, curiosity and openness are the perfect qualities to help everyone grow closer to our Lord.

Although the Teacher Manual is easy to use and self-explanatory, the following are helpful notes on its use.

Jesus: Bible Stories for Children

The read-aloud storybook that accompanies Kindergarten and will be used again in Grade One is designed to give children a simple overview of the life of our Lord. It is not meant to match the day's lesson or theme. The story of Christmas, for example, is found in the first two stories and will be read in September! Do not worry. Story time will be at the very end of the lesson and is meant to be a separate time to read and talk about Jesus through the chronological events of his life. However, there are stories on his teachings and miracles that you can rearrange to coincide with your lesson.

In Kindergarten, the teacher will read to the children from the Jesus reader, so it is recommended that a copy for each teacher be purchased. Then in First Grade, children will each have their own copy to eventually take home.

Order of lessons

The wonderful thing about the We Believe Kindergarten student text is that it's not a text! It's a series of independent newsletter-style lessons that can be easily shifted to accommodate holidays or other special considerations. Although they are numbered, feel free to switch their order. The Teacher Manual procedure in each lesson will assume you have distributed the day's newsletter lesson.

Reading level

Kindergarteners are not yet reading at the level used in the student text. Since the lessons are richly illustrated with photos and drawings, there is much to engage the children's interest. The text is brief and designed to be read aloud by the teacher and parents. Short sentences and phrases can be read by most of the students.

Bibles

Always have at the display table a Children's Bible or storybook; having more than one would be ideal. Although they may only occasionally be used, their presence is an important witness to the Bible as a special book.

Timing

Lessons are designed to last 60 minutes. If your Sunday morning program runs longer, we encourage you to augment your 60-minute class with church attendance, assemblies, singing, or other worship or learning experiences rather than lengthen class time.

Also note that timing is approximate, designed simply to give you an idea of how much time to spend on each lesson component. You can make alternate timing decisions.

Display Table

The purpose of the display table is to pique the children's interest and to give a hint of what is to come in the lesson. A list of objects will be suggested for each lesson, but we hope you will revise this list as you wish. Encourage the children to look at and touch the objects before the formal lesson begins. Place a Children's Bible on the table, open to the weekly passage to be read in God's Word to Us. While a magnifying glass is only mentioned in the first lesson, it would be helpful to have some on hand every Sunday (non-breakable plastic magnifying sheets or children's magnifiers should be used). Some items for the display table are harder to get than others. But it's worth the effort! And once you have a full display for a lesson, it is a permanent resource for years to come. Laminate magazine pictures; store display items in a large sealable baggie and identify by lesson.

IMPORTANT: Never leave children alone at the display. You or an assistant should always supervise the table until the lesson begins.

Welcoming the children

Unfortunately, Sunday School children filter into class slowly until everyone has finally arrived. Don't waste time waiting for that moment! Use the time for warm hellos and catching up, as well as time at the display table talking about the objects and preparing the children for today's lesson.

Opening prayer

While the children cannot read, the brief written opening prayer is for classroom as well as at-home use. Invite children to contribute thoughts for prayer.

Story Corner

It's a luxury for some schools to have a special spot in the Kindergarten classroom designated for story telling. The K curriculum begins with a story about everyday life and ends with a story about Jesus' life. Ideally, this might be a corner where children can sit on a nice warm rug and the teacher reads them stories, both from their lesson and then from Jesus.

This "story corner" can be a real asset, however. It allows children the movement required to keep them from getting bored and restless. It can be a place where you can set up a felt board to develop the story further and allow children more participation. It can also make story time extra special. See if you can't arrange your rooms in such a way that the youngsters get some extra space.

Flannel boards and story pieces, by the way, can be purchased online or from Christian supply stores.

Snack time

Every Sunday, kindergarteners have a break for snack. It's not because they're ravenously hungry, but breaking bread together is a beautiful Christian activity that will involve prayer, service, and mutual care.

Snack time can be arranged as you wish and as is convenient for the school: parents can contribute towards it or the school can provide it; but it's best if it's a family-style event and not individual brown bags from home. This way the pouring of juice and the sharing of a plate of cookies can be a true 'community' event. Of course, prayer, set-up, and clean-up are obligatory for all. On especially busy days or during lessons that involve outdoor activities or church attendance at specific times, snack will be brief or can be dispensed with altogether.

Crafts

It is always tempting for teachers to disregard crafts – they can entail too much time, mess, and preparation. But they are an extremely valuable component of the K classroom. Make sure you have an assistant for those crafts that entail cutting, folding, glitter, etc. and look ahead to assemble necessary supplies well in advance of the lesson. In lesson 27, for example, you need a quart milk container for each child, so give yourself enough time to collect them.

Family Page

Every lesson ends with a page directed to parents, summarizing the day's lesson and suggesting simple follow-up activities. At an opening day family orientation, introduce parents to this page and express your hope that each week they will read it and review their child's entire lesson.

Dismissal

Lessons will simply indicate a few moments for dismissal. As every Kindergarten teacher knows, saying goodbye is as valuable an opportunity as welcoming students. A hug, a wish for the week, some personal connection with what's going on in the child's life ("hope your grandma's feeling better, Talin!") — all of these farewell activities can strengthen your relationship and make students all the happier to come to church on Sunday.

Lesson 1: It's a Beautiful World!

Key Concepts

- 1. God made light, the sun, moon, and stars, land and water.
- 2. We read about Creation in the Bible.

Objectives

During this session, students will

- 1. Examine the display table.
- 2. Introduce themselves to their classmates.
- 3. Discuss personal, happy experiences.
- 4. Listen to the story of God's Creation.
- 5. Retell the story of Creation.
- 6. Start learning Jashagestzook, the prayer before meals.
- 7. Describe ways in which they enjoy God's world.
- 8. Recite the first verse of Aravod Looso (Morning of Light) in English.
- 9. Participate in a movement activity.

Materials Needed

- 1. On the display table, place the following suggested items: magnifying glass, seashells, sand, rocks, a globe, cut-out shapes of the moon, sun, stars, etc., some books about the moon and the stars.
- 2. Pre-prepared sun-shaped yellow name tags with the child's name on one side; yellow crepe paper streamers each 12"-15" in length (two for each student); large yellow circle (the sun).
- 3. A Children's Bible with colorful illustrations.
- 4. Small yellow circle and white ones in a paper bag for activity in procedure #10.
- 5. Optional: A felt board with Bible story characters and elements.

Background for the Teacher

St. Nersess Shnorhali (1102-1173) was a great leader of the Armenian Church who became Catholicos in 1166. He was also a musician. He wrote many hymns; one of these is Aravod Looso which contains 38 verses, each starting with a different letter of the Armenian alphabet. He was a renowned poet and author of prayers, as well, such as the 24-verse Havadov Khosdovanim (I Confess with Faith), one verse of which is "Jesus Wisdom of the Father."

Procedure

- 1. Welcome children warmly and direct them to the display table. Encourage them to handle and look at the objects carefully, utilizing the magnifying glass. Stand to say the opening prayer together. 5 min
- 2. Direct the children to the story corner. Say: "Tell your classmates your name as I put a name tag around your neck." After all of the children have said their names, say: "You saw a lot of things on our table this morning. Based on what you saw, what do you think our lesson will be about today?"

 5 min.
- 3. Stand to say the opening prayer together. Then ask children to look at the picture of a child sitting up in bed. Begin by asking the opening questions in Our Life Together. Finish reading the paragraph. Ask: "Where have you seen people with smiling and happy faces? What were they doing?" Discuss these questions and the photos with your students.

 5 min.

- 4. Show the children where the story of Creation appears in the Bible. Say: "At the very beginning of the Bible is a story about how God created our wonderful earth and all of the living things on it. Look at the picture in your lesson of the big, round white moon." Read God's Word to Us. 5 min.
- 5. Say, "I am going to read the creation story again (God's Word To Us). This time I am going to ask you to help me. When I give you this signal (touch your hand to your lips) say the words 'God saw that it was good and he smiled.'" Ask the children to repeat this sentence a few times for practice. Remind them: "When I give you the signal, you will say, 'God saw that it was good and he smiled.'" Begin to read, "In the beginning there was deep darkness everywhere..."
- 6. After you have finished, say: "You have just performed the creation story. What did God create for us?" If you have a felt board, use it at this time to review the story.

 5 min.
- 7. Snack. Ask the children to join you at the table. Say: "Every Sunday, before we eat our snack, we are going to recite the Prayer Before Meals (Jashagestzook) in English. Today, I will recite it in English and Armenian." Begin to teach the first line of the prayer in English. For example, say: "Today I would like you to learn the first line of the Prayer Before Meals: 'Let us in peace eat this meal.'" Then you recite the same line in Armenian: "Jashagestzook khaghaghootyamp uzgeragoorus." The children will not be memorizing the prayer in Armenian at this time, but they should gradually become familiar with it. Encourage them to do some of the serving and pouring and participate in the clean-up.
- 8. Remain at the table. Say: "Please look at the page where you see children and grown-ups enjoying the outdoors." Begin to read We Learn About God, stopping to ask the children to name some things they like to do in the sun.

 5 min
- 9. Now direct children's attention to the picture of a saintly man writing. Read the passage from Our Armenian Way about St. Nersess Shnorhali (the Grace-filled) and the hymn that he wrote.
- 10. Movement activity. Say: "Please look at the beautiful, big, round sun in your lesson. We are going to learn the words to the hymn, Morning of Light, called Aravod Looso in Armenian, a hymn written by St. Nersess Shnorhali."

Ask the children to stand. Say: "We are going to learn the first two words of the song in Armenian. Repeat these words after me – Aravod Looso – which means morning of light." Begin to teach the paraphrased translation of the Armenian words into English. Say: "Repeat each line after me." Continue this routine a few times until the children become familiar with the words.

Ask the children to go to an area of the room to begin the movement activity. Say: "Now that we know the words to the song, we are going to recite the words as we begin to move around the room. One of you will be the sun. The rest of you will be the rays of the sun, making everything shiny and bright."

"I am going to pass around a bag with paper circles in it. Whoever picks the yellow circle will be the sun." The child portraying the sun should hold a large yellow circle, while the other children hold yellow streamers, one in each hand. If there is time, the children should just walk around the first time, repeating the word looys (light). (If there is not enough time, go directly to the song.) The second time, they should say or sing, with your help, the English verse of Aravod Looso as they perform the actions below:

- Line 1 The children are all kneeling on the rug. Tap the sun to stand; the others will follow as if they were waking up. They begin the hymn The sun greets me at dawn.
- Line 2 The children, waving their streamers, walk freely around the room, moving with the sun. While moving, they say: It shines upon the earth.

Line 3 – In loud voices, they will all say the last line, Light is everywhere. When the activity is over, collect the circle and the streamers. Say: "Let us go to the story corner for a very special story."

11. Story Time: "Mary and Joseph"

After discussing the story questions, conclude: "Yes, and now that an angel has told Joseph Jesus would save the world, he and Mary waited for this great blessing."

12. Dismissal.

Lesson 2: Come to My Garden

Key Concepts

- 1. Flowers, plants and trees are God's gifts to us.
- 2. We are the caretakers of the earth.

Objectives

During this session, students will

- 1. Examine the display table.
- 2. Listen to a story about a grandmother's special meal.
- 3. Explain why the meal was so special.
- 4. Brainstorm ways to care for the earth.
- 5. Draw a picture of a garden.
- 6. Describe, with help, the Antasdan service.
- 7. Participate in an Antasdan service.

Materials Needed

- 1. On the display table, place the ceremonial cross (Background for Teacher); a bouquet of flowers; a rose; flower and/or vegetable seeds; magnifying glass; fresh basil (enough to give each child a leaf, a sprig or two); a few string beans.
- 2. For each child: white or manila construction paper (9"x12"), crayons, four different colored tissue paper circles 2"-3" in diameter to make flowers.
- 3. A Children's Bible.

Background for Teacher

The Blessing of the Field (Antasdan)

In earlier times, this service was performed outdoors. Today it is performed mostly in churches. As a symbol for the four directions of the world, the east, west, north and south corners of the church are blessed by the priest who prays for abundance of crops and protection against natural disasters. Prayers are also requested for churches, cities, villages, the Catholicos, Armenia, the priests and for the people.

Prepare a simple processional cross to use during the Antasdan service which you will conduct outdoors (if the weather permits) or indoors. You can cut out an Armenian cross (at least 8" high). Tape it to a stick or ruler and tie some basil around the base of the cross. (Basil is a pungent, sweet-smelling herb, and is a symbol of royalty. Its name comes from the ancient Greek word basilikos meaning "royal." You can wrap the cross and the stick in foil.

Procedure

- 1. Welcome children warmly and direct them to the display table. Encourage them to handle and look at the objects, utilizing the magnifying glass. Point out things for them to notice, e.g. the colors of the flowers, the beauty of the rose, the sizes of the flower seeds.

 Ask: "Does anyone have anything to say about the objects on the display table today? What do you think today's lesson will be about?"
- 2. Stand to say the opening prayer together. Sing the hymn Aravod Looso introduced last Sunday. 10 min.
- 3. Move to the story corner. Before reading the story, say: "Look at the picture of a grandmother in her garden. Today's story is about her. How many of you have grandmothers who cook special meals for you?" Read the story and review it with the help of the children. Discuss the question at the end of the story. (Possible answers: the beans were from the grandmother's garden; the friends were happy to be together; the stew was made with love.)
- 4. Direct the children to the table. Say: "There are other gardens in your lesson. Can you find them?" Read God's Word to Us and We Learn About God and brainstorm the question at the end of the paragraph. Help the children give examples like do not litter, plant seeds, recycle, etc.
- 5. Ask a child to distribute construction paper. "Today we are going to draw a beautiful flower garden. What kinds of things can you put in your picture?" They may suggest things like flowers, trees, birds, insects, sun. Say: "Before we begin to draw the flowers, we need to draw the grass and the sky. Begin to draw the grass on your paper. When you finish, draw the sky." (It is always helpful if you demonstrate before you ask the children to draw.) Continue the rest of this activity after snack. Collect the papers, writing the child's name on the back as you do, and get the table ready. 5 min.
- 6. Snack. Teach the second line of the Prayer Before Meals in English.

 "Let us in peace eat this meal, which the Lord has prepared for us." (Each week, you recite the prayer in Armenian, encouraging any of the children who wish to join you.)
- 7. Return the papers to the children. Demonstrate how to make the flowers. Say: "We are going to finish our gardens. Take a tissue paper circle. Put a dot of glue on your paper and place only the center of the circle on it. Turn up the ends of the circle. Make three more of these."
- 8. Ask: "What else can we add to our pictures?" Help the children think about adding the sun, some birds and butterflies to their pictures. (If there is time, the children can make additional flowers.) Share the pictures or display them on a wall in the classroom with the Bible quote (Genesis 1:11), "Let the earth grow plants and flowers, grass and trees."
- 9. Read Our Armenian Way and We Celebrate. If weather permits, take the children outside to celebrate a brief worship based on the Antasdan. (In this case, you might want to have story time first.) Say: "I am going to take you outside for a prayer activity that will remind us of the Antasdan service of the Armenian Church. Do you remember what the priest blesses during this service? (He blesses the four corners of the world.) For whom does the priest pray? (He prays for the people of the world.)" Remember to take the cross with you. Stand in a group with your students and face in one direction. One student should hold the cross. Ask everyone to say: "Bless the world and protect all who live in it. + In the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit. Amen." If there is inclement weather, do the same thing indoors.

Say: "Now turn to your right to face in another direction." Give the cross to another student to hold and repeat the blessing above. Do this until you have all returned to the place from which you started.

10 min.

- 10. Story Time: "Jesus is Born"
 After discussing the story question, conclude: "At the end of our story an angel guided the holy family to Egypt. May an angel guide us all back to our homes today."
- 11. Dismiss the class. Give each child a leaf of basil to take home, reminding them of the significance of the basil.

 10 min.

Lesson 3: Bless This Table

Key Concepts

- 1. Jesus is generous, loving and kind.
- 2. We should be thankful to God for his gifts.

Objectives

During this session, students will

- 1. Examine the display table.
- 2. Participate in a discussion of God's special gifts.
- 3. Recall the story of the miracle of the loaves and the fish.
- 4. Hear about the "Blessing of the Grapes" service.
- 5. Design a place mat with illustrations of grapes, bread and fish.

Materials Needed

- 1. On the display table, place cut-outs (or toy replicas) of two loaves of bread and five fish; bunch of grapes.
- 2. Colored construction paper (yellow, white), 11"x18"; scissors; crayons; Prayer Before Meals (see Appendix) to glue in the center of the mat; optional: stickers of fish, grapes and bread (fish can readily be found; the other two perhaps online or through catalogues).
- 3. A Children's Bible.

Procedure

- 1. Welcome children warmly and direct them to the display table. Encourage them to look carefully at the objects.
- 2. Stand to say the opening prayer together.

- 3. Move to the story corner. Say: "Look at the pictures of birthday presents and a cake." Read Our Life Together. With the children, discuss the gifts that God has given to them (family, friends, food, pets). Also talk about birthdays, how they are celebrated and who attends. (You may want to have a list of the children's birthdays posted somewhere in the classroom.)
- 4. Remain in the story corner for the story of the miracle of the loaves and fish. Say: "Look at the picture of Jesus with a lot of people." Use the paper cutouts or replicas of the bread and fish as you read the story (God's Word To Us).

 5 min.
- 5. Say: "Now look at the picture of a child lighting a candle." Read We Learn About God. Gifts which may be named are: new baby, pets, food, beautiful weather, rain, visits from grandparents or other family members, a family birthday celebration or gathering. Accept what the child offers. In response to the question about saying thank you, remind the children, they can say a prayer of thanks or light a candle in church.

- 6. Now have them look at the picture of the priests blessing grapes. Read Our Armenian Way. Tell the children that the priest, like Jesus who blessed the fish and the bread, blesses the grapes before they are given out to the people.

 5 min.
- 7. Snack. This week teach the last line of the Prayer Before Meals in English "Blessed is the Lord in his gifts. Amen." Remember to say the prayer in Armenian every Sunday to allow the children to hear it and become familiar with it.

 5 min.
- 8. Remain at the table. Read We Celebrate together. Then say: "To help us remember the miracle of the bread and the fish and the blessing of the grapes, you are going to make a place mat." Give out yellow or white paper, 11"x18". Explain to the children that they will fringe the two short ends of their place mats. Demonstrate how to fringe. (They may need your help with this.)
- 9. "In the center of the mat, glue the Prayer Before Meals. Draw a bunch of grapes in each corner and draw two fish and five loaves of bread around the Jashagestzook prayer." Help with the drawing and distribute stickers, if you're using them (a combination of stickers and children's drawings are better than stickers alone). They might also want to add some of the ideas they gave when answering We Celebrate questions. When they are finished, remind the children that the place mats will help them retell the stories to their parents.
- 10. Story Time: "The Baby is Blessed"
 After discussing story questions, conclude: "So here were Simeon and Anna finally seeing the baby they had waited so long for, the baby who would change the world. They were so happy they shared the good news. You, too, can share the good news of Jesus."

11. Dismissal.

Lesson 4: God's Amazing Zoo

Key Concepts

- 1. God created the animals.
- 2. God wants us to care for them.

Objectives

During this session, students will

- 1. Examine the display table.
- 2. Participate in a discussion of animal habitats.
- 3. Listen to the Bible reading about the creation of the animals.
- 4. Review God's message about caring for animals.
- 5. Learn about "bird letters."
- 6. Color a bird letter representing the first initial of their name.

Materials Needed

- 1. On the display table, a book of bird letters (or just the one from today's lesson), a globe, library book(s) with pictures of animals.
- 2. Other materials needed: crayons, optional: stick glue, sequins, shapes, etc. for children to decorate their letters with; bird letters (one for every child's first name initial, available from the book Aravod Looso; if you do not have the book Aravod Looso (a copy was sent to every Sunday School), contact the Department of Christian Education at the Diocese for the letters) crayons or colored pencils.

3. A Children's Bible.

Background for Teacher

Armenian artists have always been fascinated with nature, especially birds. In the 12^{th} – 14^{th} centuries, artists began to form letters of the alphabet into the shapes of fish and men as well as birds. Some information you can share with the children: Wild animals - like bears, mountain cats, deer and boar - can be found in the mountains of Armenia. There are 346 different kinds of birds in Armenia. Some birds are year-round residents; others come for seasonal stays.

Procedure

- 1. Welcome the children and direct them to the display table, calling their attention to the bird letters.
- 2. Stand to say the opening prayer together.

10 min.

- 3. Invite the children to join you in the story corner. Direct children's attention to the pictures of animals on the opening page. Read Our Life Together. Have available reference books on animals from a local library and a globe. Show just a few pictures. Discuss questions.
- 4. Read God's Word To Us. Say: "This story is found in the Bible where we read all about how God created the animals, the birds and the creatures living in the ocean. (You can hold up a Bible and point to Genesis.)
- 5. Ask: "Where is the picture of a monkey?" Review We Learn About God together. Spend a few moments to ask the children about their favorite animals.

 5 min.
- 6. Go to the table. Show some bird letters as you read from Our Armenian Way. Ask the children to repeat the Armenian word for bird letter turch-na-keer. Say: "This word comes from the word, tur-choon, bird, and keer, letter." 5 min.
- 7. Snack. 10 min.
- 8. Read We Celebrate. Give out the bird letters and say: "This is a bird letter. It is the first letter of your name. Color (decorate) it." When the children have finished, tape the letters to a wall so they can spend time looking at them.
- 9. Story Time: "In My Father's House" Conclude story time: "Mary kept thinking about how special Jesus was. Let's remember all week about how special Jesus is to us."
- 10. Dismiss the class.

Lesson 5: God Made You and Me

Key Concepts

- 1. God made us with love.
- 2. God wants us to love one another.

Objectives

During this session, students will

- 1. Examine the display table.
- 2. Listen to a story about two children.
- 3. Participate in a discussion to resolve their conflict.
- 4. Listen to a passage from the Bible.
- 5. Compare their names in Armenian and English with those of the other children in class.
- 6. Recite a prayer for the children of the world.
- 7. Play a matching game with international children's faces.

- 2. Names of children in Armenian and in English (suggested size for each: 1½" x 5½"); for each child: oak tag approximately 5½" x 8"; A Prayer for the Children of the World; (see appendix), color reproduction of children's photos from We Celebrate (you can also go online for pictures of children of different cultures); crayons or markers; glue; hole punch; yarn or ribbon.
- 3. Matching Game: "I Never Forget a Face" (your Sunday School received a set from the Diocese). Have it set up for children to play with as they arrive.
- 4. A Children's Bible.

Procedure

- 1. Welcome children warmly and direct them to the display table. Encourage them to look at the book(s) and the pictures. Help them play the matching game.
- 2. Stand to say the opening prayer together.

- 3. Move with the children to the story corner. Before beginning the story, engage the children in a conversation about what they see in the picture. Read Our Life Together. At the end of the story, elicit from the children their responses to the questions.
- 4. Remain in the story corner. Holding the Bible say, "God made each one of us, and the story is here in the Bible." Read God's Word to Us.
- 5. Go to the table. As a review, talk about Ara and Lucy, their problem, and its resolution. Read from We Learn About God.

 5 min.
- 6. Stay at the table for the name activity. As you distribute the papers with the names of the children in Armenian and English, say: "These words spell your names in Armenian and English letters." Hold up the names; say the child's name as you give them to him/her. Say: "Our names are different, and the letters of our names are different. Look at a friend's paper. Does his or her name look like yours?" After a few minutes to allow the children to compare names, say: "Now you are going to glue your names on your lesson page. When you finish, copy or trace the first letter of your name in Armenian right next to where you pasted your names. I will help you"
- 7. Snack. 5 min.
- 8. Say: "Now look at the faces of children from different parts of the world." Read We Celebrate.

Say: "Today we are going to make a prayer card. On this card, we will glue a prayer like the one we just recited." Distribute the prayers, oak tag, and photos. Help children glue the prayers in the middle of the oak tag and the photos on one side. Leave space for their own drawing.

Hold up face cards from the matching game; pointing to these and the pictures in the text, say: "These children are from different places all over the world. Now somewhere on the card, draw a picture of yourself."

When children have finished, make a hole at the top of the prayer card, and loop a strip of ribbon through the hole. As you hand the finished cards back, say: "When you take the prayer card home, share it with your family and decide where to hang it in your home to remind you of God's words: 'Love one another!'"

10 min.

9. Story Time: "This is My Son"

Conclude story time: "In the wilderness, Jesus had to think hard about who he was and what he was going to do. He spent his time praying. Let's try to follow Jesus and pray more this week."

(Some of your students may need additional help.)

Say: "Begin to put your letters on the ribbon. Bring your bracelet to me when you are finished so I can tie it around your wrist." Say: "Come and stand in a circle. Now I am going to teach you a chant, a kind of poem. It is called "Love One Another." Refer to We Celebrate. "I will say a line, and you echo the words that I say." Recite both verses. If there is time, repeat the chant one more time. The children can try to snap their fingers or clap their hands. Whisper the line, love one another.

8. Story Time: "Follow Me" Conclude story time: "Jesus began his wonderful work with a special group of followers, people who would listen, and learn and then teach others. We are his followers today!"

9. Dismiss the class.

Lesson 7: Noah and A New World

Key Concepts

- 1. God created life again with Noah and his family.
- 2. God pledged his love with the sign of a rainbow.

Objectives

During this session, students will

- 1. Examine the display table.
- 2. Listen to a story about a girl named Ani.
- 3. Listen to a Bible passage about Noah and the ark.
- 4. Discuss the wonders of God.
- 5. Review the story of Noah.

- 6. Name one thing they learned about Mt. Ararat.
- 7. Make an olive branch to use in a retelling of the story of Noah.

Materials Needed

- 1. On the display table there should be a picture of the ark or, even better, an age-appropriate toy Noah's ark; a sample of the olive branch to be made by the students; a jar of olives; olive oil; pictures of rainy days; a small umbrella; a rain hat.
- 2. For each child: copy of the ark to be glued in student text and leaves traced onto green construction paper for the olive branch (see appendix); twigs (check at a garden store or florist if you can't collect them yourself); crayons; scissors; glue.
- 3. A Children's Bible.

Background for Teacher

Numerous expeditions have been made to the summit of Mt. Ararat in search of the ark. There are many legends concerning a great ship on Mt. Ararat. The two peaks of Ararat are known as Greater Massis (Ararat) or Lesser Massis (little Ararat).

Genesis 8:5 tells us that after the ark landed, it took several months until the tops of the other mountains could be seen. Mt. Ararat is the highest mountain in the area. It is covered with snow and glaciated year round. These conditions would help to preserve the ark. The search for Noah's ark continues!

Olive trees were very important to the people of Jesus' time. Olives were a basic food. They were eaten pickled and spiced. But even more importantly, the olive fruit would be crushed to produce oil. Olive oil was used extensively for cooking and as fuel for lamps. In the dry climate, it was also a soothing ointment. Finally, it was used to anoint people, setting them apart for a special job. Priests and kings were anointed. We are anointed with oil when we are chrismated.

Procedure

- 1. Welcome children warmly and direct them to the display table. Talk about the olive branch and olives-using Background for Teacher information-as well as rain and rainy days.
- 2. Gather to say the opening prayer.

- 3. Direct the children to the story corner. Read Our Life Together. Ask: "Have you ever had to stay inside your house because of a severe rainstorm just like Ani in the story? What did you do?"
- 4. Say: "I am going to tell you a story about a rainstorm which lasted not one day, not two days, not three days but forty days and forty nights. It is the story of a man named Noah who always did what God told him to do. Turn the page to where you will find a large boat, called an ark." Read God's Word to Us.
- 5. Go to the table. Read We Learn About God. Encourage the children to comment on the observations.

 5 min.
- 6. Snack. 10 min.
- 7. Say: "Now look at the picture of the two mountains." Read about Mt. Ararat (Our Armenian Way). Distribute the arks which will be pasted in the student's lesson. "Name one thing we can add to our picture? (dove) Yes, and let's draw one now. (Distribute crayons.) What is another thing we can add? (rainbow) Let's draw one now over Mt. Ararat. And now, tell me one thing you remember about Mt. Ararat." Remind the children how much God loves us. The rainbow is God's promise that he will always love us.

- 8. Read from We Celebrate. Say: "Today we are going to make a little branch of olive leaves like the one the dove brought back from dry land to Noah." Ask one of the children to distribute the twigs and 4 leaves, 3 large and one small. Have the children cut out the leaves. Then go around, taping each child's leaves on their branch. Have the children sit, stand or walk in procession as you re-read God's Word To Us. They may raise their branches of leaves when you reach the line "The dove flew back with an olive branch...."
- 9. Story Time: "His Loving Touch" Conclude story time: "Jesus told the sick boy's father 'Everything is possible when you believe.' This week let's ask Jesus to help us believe even more."

10. Dismissal. 10 min.

 5 min.
- 5. Say: "Now let's look at the picture which has three parts. This picture with three parts is called a triptych. Boys and girls, point to the center panel. This is Mary (Maryam) and the angel Gabriel. The Armenian word for angel is hreshdag. What is the angel saying to Mary? What is Mary saying to the angel? What the angel told Mary is called the Annunciation. The word "annunciation" means "something that is announced." (Next, point to the picture of the candle.) In Armenian, it is called mohm. (Now point to the picture of the rose.) In Armenian, it is called vart." The beautiful rose is a flower we associate with St. Mary.

Lesson 11: This is My Son

Key Concepts

- 1. John the Baptist baptized Jesus.
- 2. God manifested himself by sending the Holy Spirit in the form of a dove to seal the baptism of Jesus.

Objectives

During this session, students will

- 1. Examine the display table.
- 2. Listen to a story about the baptism of a baby.
- 3. Listen to a story of Jesus' baptism.
- 4. Retell, using pictures, the story of Jesus' baptism.
- 5. With your help, name the members of the Holy Trinity present at Jesus' baptism.
- 6. Explain the roles of the godmother and godfather at the baptism.
- 7. Make a paper dove to represent the presence of the Holy Spirit at Jesus' baptism.
- 8. Chant the hymn "Amen Alleluia."

Materials Needed

- 1. On the display table, place a completed paper dove to be made by the children; picture of John the Baptist baptizing Jesus (try to find a picture which also shows the dove); a picture of a child being baptized in an Armenian Church (if possible, try to obtain an actual photograph of a student); a bottle of water; an article of white clothing; a small clear bottle of baby oil; (use these to discuss the water in the font, the white clothing babies are dressed in after being baptized, and the muron),
- 2. For each child, pre-cut doves (see Appendix for instructions); light weight white paper for wings; clear tape; string; scissors. You will probably need an assistant for this activity.
- 3. A Children's Bible.

Background for Teacher

In Armenian, the word for baptism is mugrdootiun. The baby is "dipped" in the baptismal font three times. After the baby is dried, the priest blesses and anoints with holy oil nine parts of the body. The children will be interested to know which parts: the forehead, eyes, ears, nostrils, mouth, hands, heart, back and feet. This is called chrismation or troshm.

The godmother dresses the baby in white, and then the priest presents the baby to the Holy Altar to receive Holy Communion for the very first time. The Armenian word for communion is haghortootiun.

Procedure

- 1. Welcome children warmly and direct them to the display table. Encourage them to look carefully at the objects.
- 2. Stand to say the opening prayer together.

- 3. Move the children to the story corner. Say: "Look at the picture of the priest baptizing a baby." Read Our Life Together. Go over the story, asking questions to help with the retelling such as, "What was the first thing Der Hayr did with the baby? (said prayers, put her in the water) When did he bless the baby with holy oil?" (After the baby was put in the font and dried.) You can use the information in the Background for Teacher to supplement the material in Our Life Together.
- 4. Holding the Bible say, "Today's Bible reading is about the baptism of Jesus in the River Jordan by his cousin John." Read God's Word To Us. Use the page to review the baptism of Jesus Christ. Read We Learn About God. This may be a time to review the Holy Trinity without going into too much detail. You can say, "While John the Baptist was baptizing Jesus, God the Father was watching from heaven. God sent the Holy Spirit down to the River Jordan as a dove (use the paper dove from the display table)." As you move the dove downward, say: "The dove flew down above Jesus, and God's voice said, 'This is my Son, and I am so pleased with him.'" Repeat: "God the Father, Jesus the Son and the Holy Spirit were all there at the baptism." Ask: "What did God's voice say as the dove came down?" (This is my Son. I am so pleased with him.)
- 5. Snack. 10 min.
- 6. Say: "Let's look at this picture of Der Hayr, baby Araxie, and her godfather and godmother." Read from Our Armenian Way. The people in the drawing are baby Araxie's godmother and godfather. You also had two very special people at your baptism your godfather and your godmother. Say: "Ask your mom or dad who your godparents were. They can write their names in your lesson." (Show the children where.)
- 7. Distribute the precut doves and the white sheets of paper to make the accordion-pleated wings. Help the children as they pleat the wings. Make a slit in the side of the dove where the folded paper will be inserted. Insert the folded paper through the slit, spread open the folded paper, tape ends together at the top. Put string for hanging where the wings are joined. Go to an area of the room where the children can stand to learn the hymn, "Amen Alleluya." Once it is learned, they can sing the hymn while flying their doves.
- 8. Story time: "The Happy Wedding"
 Conclude story time by repeating the last line and then say: "Yes, there are so many miracles that Jesus performed out of love and to show the glory of God, and we will be reading about them all together."
- 9. Dismissal.

- 6. Listen to the Parable of The Lost Sheep.
- 7. Create a wall mural of the parable.
- 8. Retell the Parable of The Lost Sheep using props.

Materials Needed

- 1. On the display table, place a picture of Jesus with the children (you can use the one on the cover of Jesus); the figures of a shepherd, a sheep, and a lamb, to be used on the mural later in the lesson (see patterns).
- 2. Brown wrapping paper 24"x 30" on which you have drawn a few hills. Dark brown construction paper for rocks (to be made and added by the children to the mural). After listening to the Parable of The Lost Sheep, the children will create a mural and use it to retell the story. The mural should be on a wall in the classroom when the children arrive.
- 3. Copy and precut one sheep, one lamb and one shepherd for each child. You may want to ask for parent help with this project. At the end of the lesson, each child should take home a lamb and a shepherd to share the story with his/her family; cotton; glue; crayons; scissors; masking tape.
- 4. A Children's Bible.

Procedure

- 1. Welcome children warmly and direct them to the display table. Encourage them to look carefully at the picture of Jesus and the children. Say: "What do you think Jesus is saying to the children?" Direct their attention to the figures of the shepherd and the lamb. Say: "We will hear a story today about this shepherd."
- 2. Stand to say the opening prayer.

- 3. Move the children to the story corner and direct their attention to the picture of a priest with children. Read Our Life Together.
- 4. Say: "Look at Jesus with the children. How can you tell that Jesus loves them?" Read God's Word To Us.
- 5. Direct the children's attention to the picture of a child running to his grandfather. Read We Learn About God. Ask: "Why did Jesus want the children to come to him? When your grandmother plays a game with you, do you feel loved? When your aunt comes to spend the day just with you, do you feel loved? When you and your dad go out for breakfast on Saturday mornings, do you feel loved?" Say: "Repeat these words after me, 'God loves me and listens to my prayers." 5 min.

6. Snack. 10 min.

7. Ask children to find the picture of a priest writing a prayer. Read from Our Armenian Way. Say: "St. Nersess was a priest. He wrote prayers, and music and poetry." Read the prayer, explaining the meaning of the words. Ask the children to repeat the prayer, line by line, after you.

- 8. Now say: "I am going to read you a story that Jesus told to help us understand how much God loves us. It is called The Parable (which is a story) of the The Lost Sheep." Read We Celebrate. Say: "With this story, Jesus was trying to tell us that God loves us. When we are in trouble and need help, he will help us just like the shepherd who saved his lamb."

 5 min.
- 9. Go to the mural and say: "On the mural, I have drawn some hills. First, you are going to help me add some things to the mural. Using brown paper, cut out some rocks and glue them on the mural. With your green crayon, draw some grass on the mural." Give out two lambs to each student and say: "We are going to glue cotton on to their bodies, but before we do that, I want you to take a black or brown crayon and color their faces and ears. Then you can glue some cotton on to the bodies. When you have finished gluing the cotton, place one of your lambs, using masking tape, somewhere on the mural."

Once the lambs are on the mural, say: "Who can tell me how the story began? (Place a shepherd on the mural.) What happened next?" Ask a child to place one of the lambs on the mural near some rocks. Say: "What was the shepherd's problem? What did he decide to do about it? Did the story have a happy ending? At dismissal, I will give you a shepherd to take home with your lamb so that you can tell your family the story of The Lost Sheep."

10. Teach and sing the song, "Tender Shepherd."

5 min.

11. Story Time: "Winds and Waves Listen"
Conclude story time. "The disciples were wondering, 'Who is this man who is ruler of all of nature?' Sometimes we too ask questions like this, and here in Sunday School we learn some very good answers about who Jesus is."

12. Dismissal.

- 2. For the Heesnag chain, cut 50 strips of paper 3"x 9", 49 red and green and 1 gold or white; prepare several links in advance for demonstration; star stickers; thin markers; stapler. You may want to get parent volunteers for this project. Check a church calendar for the beginning of the Advent season. Each week until Christmas, you'll have the children remove seven links from the chain. You can change the number in the Advent rhyme to correspond to the number of links left on the chain. Remove seven of the links today. The gold/white link represents Jesus and Christmas day. Consider hanging the removed links in the classroom in groups of seven.
- 3. A Children's Bible.

Procedure

- 1. Welcome children warmly and direct them to the display table. Encourage them to look carefully at the Heesnag chain (do not identify it).
- 2. Stand to say the opening prayer together.

10 min.

3. Move the children to the story corner. Referring to the picture on the first lesson page, say: "I wonder what these two children are doing? Any ideas?" Read from Our Life Together. Then ask: "So what were these two up to? After children answer, continue: "Yes, they were getting ready for Christmas. What happened long ago that we celebrate on Christmas?" (Use the manger scene to retell the Christmas story in its basic details: Jesus was born in a stable and lovingly placed in a manger by his mother Mary and father Joseph. Angels announced the birth of Jesus, the Son of God, to shepherds in the fields. A bright star over the stable guided the three wise men to where they could find the blessed baby, etc.)

Continue: "But let's back up to the time when Mary learned she would have a baby. What did she do to prepare? The first thing she did was share this good news with someone she loved, her cousin Elizabeth (you might want to ask if the children have cousins they are close to). Let's read about it."

5 min.

4. Read God's Word To Us.

5. Snack. 10 min.

- 6. Return to and read We Learn About God. "People prepared for the birth of Jesus in different ways. What are some of the ways you might prepare for Christmas?" Discuss the list and ask for additional ideas.
- 7. Read or teach Our Armenian Way. Then ask, "What does Advent mean? (Something's coming.) What do we try to do during Advent or Heesnag? (Pray more, read the Bible, be as good as we can be.)"
- 8. "Now we are going to make an Advent chain like the one in our lesson. It will help us remember that there are 50 days during the period of Heesnag." Read the Advent verse.

Say: "Here we have strips of red and green paper and one gold (white). The gold (white) one will remind us of Jesus and the day he was born. I am going to give each of you some paper strips. On each strip, you can place a star sticker or you can draw something you see at the Christmas season like a candle, an ornament, a Christmas tree, a cross. When you finish, bring the strips to me, and I will give you some more." Distribute strips among children. As they bring their strips to you, staple them in a chain of links to make an Advent Chain.

When the Advent Chain is completed, add the gold or white link and teach the Advent verse.

The children can move in a circle, each holding a part of the chain, while they recite the verse.

Gather the children around you as they help you remove seven links from the chain. Hang these on a wall in the classroom. Each week, seven links will be removed from the chain and the verse recited, naming the number of days left for Christmas.

- 1. Examine the display table.
- 2. Hear a story about a Sunday School class visiting the baptistry with Der Hayr.
- 3. Listen to a Bible passage about Jesus' baptism.
- 4. Participate in a story about making good choices.
- 5. Demonstrate the blessings of chrismation.
- 6. Make a dove as a reminder of the Holy Spirit.

Materials Needed

- 1. On the display table, put pictures of Jesus' baptism and/or a child's baptism; a dove-shaped muron container (if one can be borrowed); a doll; a small bottle of baby oil.
- 2. A Children's Bible.

Procedure

- 1. Welcome children warmly and direct them to the display table. Encourage them to look closely at the objects on the table.
- 2. Stand to recite the opening prayer.

5 min.

- 3. Move to the story corner and direct children's attention to the photo of muron-blessing in Etchmiadzin. Read from Our Life Together. Say: "What did Harout remember about his sister's baptism?" (Der Hayr said that when we are baptized we become a child of God. We become a member of God's family.) 5 min.
- 4. Read God's Word to Us. This has already become a familiar story to Kindergarteners.
- 5. Now read from We Learn About God. Ask the children, "What are some good choices we can make?" (These can be as simple as: waiting one's turn, holding the door open for someone, throwing a gum wrapper into the trash and not on the floor, bringing in cans for a food drive.)

 10 min.
- 6. Snack. 10 min.
- 7. Direct children's attention to the picture of a priest anointing a baby (chrismation). Read Our Armenian Way. Using the doll and the baby oil, demonstrate the way the priest blesses the nine parts of the baby's body, by dipping the tip of your thumb into the oil and tracing a cross on each part. Recite the blessings as you do. Children can role play being godparents and holding the baby. 5 min.
- 8. Read We Celebrate. Then, before reading the story again, say: "We're going to make a dove out of paper to remind us of the one made out of silver that the priest uses. It will also remind us of the blessing with Holy Oil of the nine parts of a baby's body. Give each child the two strips of paper as indicated on the diagram. Ask them to fringe one end of each strip. (This will be difficult for some because of a lack of fine motor coordination.) Have them bring both strips to you or an aide. Print their names on one strip, then staple the unfringed ends together. Push the top strip forward to form a head; place a staple there. Now push the bottom strip forward to form the body of the dove (both strips should now be fairly equal); staple. Now staple one end of the elastic band where the head was stapled. Now have children stand, reread We Celebrate, and ask them to recite God's words with you, "This is my Son. I am pleased with him." At these words, the children can "fly" the doves.

9. Story Time: "Jesus Is Welcomed Like A King" Conclude story time: "Jesus was welcomed into Jerusalem like a king, and in the temple he was still teaching the people the right way to live. We can live the right way by following Jesus, too."

10. Dismissal.

- 5. Read God's Word To Us. Direct children's attention to the miniature-style illustration of the Presentation. Describe the picture: Mary is presenting the baby Jesus to the Temple priest Simeon. Behind him is Joseph, and behind Mary is the prophetess Anna. Both Simeon and Anna had been waiting a long time to see this special baby.

Review with the children the different periods in Jesus' early life when he was taken to the temple and for what purpose (eighth day to be named, fortieth day to be 'given' to the Lord, age 12 for the celebration of a feast, Passover).

- 6. Upon returning from church, have children look at the pictures of the Great Entrance. "We are going to make a chalice, a paten and a nushkhar. The paten is the little dish that is placed over the chalice. Then the nushkhar is placed on the paten, and everything is covered with a cloth until Der Hayr is ready to use it.

"I am going to give you a chalice cut from yellow paper. We will pretend it is gold." On the table put yellow and white construction paper. Also put some plastic lids of different sizes for the paten and the nushkhar. Have children trace and cut a round circle out of yellow paper, to be used as the round dish (paten), then a smaller white circle for the nushkhar. When they have finished cutting, instruct them to draw a cross on the round white nushkhar and then decorate the chalice with markers. Say: "When you are finished with all three pieces, I want you to glue them on a piece of paper. First, glue the chalice; next to it the paten and then the nushkhar. Bring the finished papers to me, and I will print the names under each one."

7. Story Time: "A Special Night"

Say: "Take a red crayon and color around the edges of the stole. That is called a border." (Demonstrate.)

Next give each child two pre-cut crosses of yellow and/or gold-colored paper. Before children glue the crosses onto the stole, 1) check to see that crosses are going in the right direction and 2) if the stole is too long (drape it over child's shoulder), cut off a piece at one end.

When these have been secured, drape the stole over the left shoulder of the child and pin it. 15 min.

9. Story Time: "The Garden of Prayer"
Conclude story time: "This was the end of a very sad day. Why do you think Peter said he didn't know Jesus? Yes, maybe he was afraid. Have you ever been afraid of something? How did it feel?"

Lesson 28: The People of God Celebrate

Key Concepts

- 1. The Feast of the Transfiguration is a major feast of the Armenian Church, celebrated in July.
- 2. The Feast of Vartavar was a pagan feast.

 5 min.
- 4. Read through God's Word To Us. After one reading, help the children (six volunteers) "perform" the story while you read again. Have children find all the story's characters in the Armenian miniature illustration. Conclude with We Learn About God. Impress upon the children that long after this event happened, the church still wants to remember and celebrate.
- 5. Read Our Armenian Way and We Celebrate (have children identify characters again) and then say: "We are going to make a stand-up figure of Jesus. It will show how he looked on top of that mountain."
- 6. Ask a child to help you distribute the cutout figures of Jesus. Say: "This is a figure of Jesus Christ. Carefully put some glue on Jesus' belt and halo and then sprinkle glitter on it."

After the glue dries a bit, write each child's name on a craft stick. Tape the craft stick between the front and back figures of Jesus. The final step will be to place the craft stick in the center of a wad of play dough to help Jesus stand. Take a piece of play dough. Put the craft stick into the play dough to make Jesus stand. At this time review the events that took place at the Transfiguration.

15 min.

7. Have children sit at the table for their last story together.
